

Life Skills Sensory Activity: Materials and Textures.

Today's activity is all about how materials feel. You could gather some materials that feel different to explore together. Here are some ideas using some household objects:

Perhaps a board could be made with all the different textures that can be found like this one:

Or maybe a sensory walk might be more appropriate. Here are some examples:

Of if you are braver!

