Watch the video on the website if you need a little help.

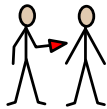

Someone who will keep supporting you for a long time,

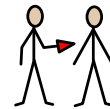

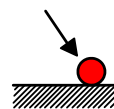

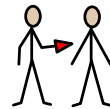

even if things are difficult.

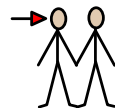

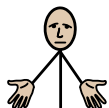

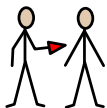

Someone who treats you well and does nice things for you.

Someone who you know will be there for you when you need them.

Someone who gives you their time and sometimes other things.

Someone who  thinks about  your  feelings and  what  you might  like.

Someone who will  help  you when  you are  struggling.

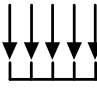

Someone who is  polite,  respectful and considerate of  others.

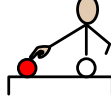

Someone who  will not hold a grudge if  you they  don't like something you  did.

Someone who  can  make you  smile or  laugh.

Someone who be sympathetic  about  what you are  feeling.

Someone who  knows  we  are  all  different  and also knows  that  it is okay to be  different. They  may  have a different  opinion  from  yours  but  that  is okay too.

Someone who will  look after you and  make  sure you are okay.

Some of these are tricky and it is helpful to talk through what they mean with an adult. Watch the rest of the video for activities using these words.
